INFORMATION FOR THE MEDIA

The Chicago Bulls enter their 13th season with a deep sense of appreciation for the coverage and support from the Chicagoland media. We plan to continue to accommodate you in any way possible in the 1978-79 season.

SEASON PRESS PASSES—We will honor all reasonable requests for press passes from recognized newspapers, magazines and radio and TV outlets. No season press passes will be issued to weekly newspapers or radio stations without regularly scheduled newscasts.

DAILY PRESS PASSES—Representatives of weekly newspapers and radio stations without regularly scheduled newscasts are asked to request in advance a pass for a specific game. These seats will be provided in the hockey press box on the west end of the stadium on a first-come, first-serve basis. Please make requests at least 48-hours in advance of the game in writing to Brian McIntyre, or Tim Hallam, 333 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill., 60601.

PHOTOGRAPHERS—Season press passes will be issued to accredited photographers from Chicago daily newspapers and television stations. Photographers from weekly newspapers and magazines wishing to work specific games should request single-game passes which will be left at Gate 3½. Free lance photographers wishing credential must submit a letter with a specific assignment from a publication to obtain working passes.

COMPLIMENTARY TICKETS—Complimentary tickets for members of the media are available on a very limited basis. There is a limit of 2 for any one game and requests must be submitted to Brian McIntyre at least 72 hours in advance of the game.

GAMES SERVICES—All statistical services including play-by-play, quarter statistics, halftime and final boxes, locker room quotes and other NBA scores will be provided to media on press row and in the hockey box. There are no telephones available, and media wishing a phone for the season or a single game should contact Tim Hallam.

FOOD SERVICE—Hot food service will be provided again this year between 6:30 and 7:15 in the hospitality room located on the Warren Blvd. side of the stadium. Admittance to the food service is limited to holders of Bulls' GOLD season passes and NBA passes.

ROD THORN

GENERAL MANAGER

It's a long way from Princeton, West Virginia to Chicago, Illinois, but it didn't take Rod Thorn very long to make the journey. At 37, Rod is the youngest General Manager in the National Basketball Association.

Being the youngest, however, doesn't mean being inexperienced. Rod has been involved in the professional game for almost fifteen years as a player, an assistant coach and a head coach. And prior to that, Thorn, like many other successful athletes, was a multi-sport athletic star in both high school and college.

A native of Princeton, West Virginia, a city of about 8,000 near the West Virginia—Kentucky border, Thorn was an All-Scholastic, All-American basketball selection in high school and followed two other illustrious West Virginians — Jerry West and Hot Rod Hundley — to the University of West Virginia.

An outstanding athlete, Rod as an All-American pick his junior and senior seasons as a Mountaineer. In addition to his hardcourt prowess, Rod was well respected as a pitcher and first baseman and had to choose between a career in professional baseball or basketball.

When the Baltimore Bullets made him their Number One pick, and the second player chosen in the 1963 draft, Thorn opted for the NBA. After one season with the Bullets, he traveled to Detroit, then to St. Louis to play with the Hawks and finally to Seattle where he played four years before a knee injury precipitated his departure from the playing ranks.

But his knowledge and love of the game had evidenced themselves before his retirement and had prompted Seattle Coach Lenny Wilkens to utilize him as a playing assistant his final season. He took the full-time assistant's role the following year.

When Kevin Loughery took over the reins of the then New York Nets in 1973, one of the first things he did was hire Thorn, an ex-teammate and close friend, as Assistant Coach. The two complemented one another well and coached the team to a 55-29 regular season record and the ABA Championship. Thorn stayed on as Assistant Coach until the ABA St. Louis Spirits offered Rod the position of Head Coach in 1975. When the club pulled a disappearing act in 1976, the Nets were only too happy to rehire Thorn as Assistant Coach, the position he held until accepting the G.M. role with the Bulls in May, 1978.

Rod's knowledge of the game and the talent, his rapport with both players and administrators and his easy going way and wit will serve him well in his present duties.

He and his wife, Peggy, have a three-and-a-half year old son, Jonathan.

LARRY COSTELLO

HEAD COACH

If indeed the past is prologue, then the future looks very promising for both Larry Costello and the Chicago Bulls. Named on June 6, 1978 as only the fourth Head Coach in the twelve year history of the team, Costello is regarded as one of the most successful coaches and players in NBA history.

This season will mark Costello's tenth as an NBA Head Coach. In nine previous campaigns, all with the Milwaukee Bucks, he established himself as one of the league's premier coaches. His 410 career victories place him ninth on the NBA All-Time victory list and are bettered by only three active coaches. Costello's .608 winning percentage is the third best in the history of the NBA for coaches with at least 400 victories.

Costello's pro coaching career began in 1968 with the Bucks, an expansion team which posted a 27-55 mark. After that inauspicious debut, Costello led the Bucks to five straight Playoff berths, three consecutive 60-plus victory campaigns and an NBA Championship in 1970-71.

That 1970-71 title-winning team established a then-record 20 straight wins enroute to a 66-16 regular season record. In his nine seasons with Milwaukee, Costello led the Bucks to one NBA Championship, five Midwest Division crowns, six Playoff berths and 410 victories.

Costello, the NBA player, was every bit as successful as Costello, the NBA coach. The Minoa, New York native starred in basketball and baseball at Niagara University and was drafted in the second round by the Philadelphia Warriors in 1954. Two years later he was sold to the Syracuse Nationals where he scored in double figures six straight seasons.

When the Warriors flew to San Francisco in 1963, Syracuse moved to Philadelphia and Costello returned to his original NBA city. He played in Philadelphia for two more seasons, retired briefly in 1965 to coach Minoa (N.Y.) High School to a league title in its first year of existence and returned to the 76ers in 1966. He played for two more years, including the 1966-67 season when Philadelphia captured the NBA Championship with a 68-13 regular season slate.

Larry retired at the end of the 1967-68 season when an achilles tendon injury proved to be too severe. When he retired as a player, the game lost the last of the great two-handed set shooters. But before he retired, Costello had been selected to the Eastern Division First Team All-Star squad six times. He still ranks ninth on the NBA's All-Time free throw shooting list with a lifetime mark of .841. Costello also holds the NBA record for most consecutive points — 32. He is one of only a handful of individuals who has won an NBA Championship both as a player and as a coach.

Larry and his wife, Barbara, have four daughters, Lesley (12), Pamela (10), Colleen (8), and Amy (7).

SCOTTY ROBERTSON

Assistant Coach

Scotty Robertson, the newest addition to the Bulls' coaching staff, is a perfect complement to Head Coach Larry Costello. His knowledge of the game and techniques is well regarded as is his rapport with players in both the pro and college game.

As Costello puts it, "Scotty knows, loves and can teach the game. His ability to teach is a great asset for our young players as well as our veterans."

Prior to joining the Bulls Scotty was an assistant with the Buffalo Braves. He was the first Head Coach of the New Orleans Jazz and has had considerable scouting experience.

Before entering the pro game, Robertson was a highly successful college coach at his alma mater, Louisiana Tech. In his ten seasons as head coach, Robertson compiled a 165-86 record (.657 winning percentage) which included three Southland Conference Championships. His teams at Tech never finished lower than third in the conference and were ranked number one nationally in the NCAA College Division at various times throughout his career.

Scotty and his wife, Betty Lou, have three daughters and make their home in Ruston, Louisiana.

JERRY SLOAN

Assistant Coach

Jerry is in his third year as assistant coach of the Bulls and this year his duties have been expanded to include a considerable amount of scouting.

One of Chicago's all time favorite athletes, Sloan is well regarded for his intense desire to win. Just such an attitude earmarked his eleven year NBA career.

Number 4 was twice a member of the NBA All-Star team, and was voted to the NBA All-Defensive team six times, four seasons on the first team and twice on the second. He ranks in the top ten in ten of twelve Bulls' individual career categories and is the all time leader in games and minutes played.

Jerry, his wife Bobbi and their three children reside in suburban Northbrook.

GENE TORMOHLEN

Assistant Coach and Head Scout

Well known and well liked around the NBA, "Bumper" is now in his third season with the Bulls. Gene is in charge of scouting college talent for the Bulls, and has earned his reputation as one of the ablest talent scouts in the game.

Before joining the Bulls, Tormohlen spent eight seasons coaching and scouting for the Atlanta Hawks.

Gene watches games in big cities and at major universities, in rural arenas and at tiny schools. No road is not taken if it might lead to a prospective NBA player.

Tormohlen trained himself well for his present job. A two-time All-Southeastern Conference performer at Tennessee, he captained the Vols in 1959, his senior year. He played two seasons for the then amateur Cleveland Pipers of the NIBL, helping them to league and AAU championships in his second year. Next came two seasons with the Kansas City Steers where he earned fame as one of the American Basketball League's top centers.

He entered the NBA with the St. Louis Hawks and continued his career on their switch to Atlanta. The next eight years were spent serving a succession of coaches and general managers in the coaching and scouting field.

The 6-9 native of Holland, Ind., enjoys fishing and attending horse races in the off-season. He and his wife, the former Julie Stafford, reside in suburban Schaumburg with their two children, Gina and Tommy.

DOUG ATKINSON

Trainer/Traveling Secretary

This is Doug's third season with the Bulls and the Longview, Texas native is as vital to the success of the squad as any player. He is responsible for all training activities, team travel and administration of the club's Angel Guardian training facility. Fifteen hour days are the rule rather than the exception for the man who helps keep the Bulls in shape.

Doug joined the Bulls after serving in both the California Angels and Los Angeles Dodgers' organizations. He attended the University of Texas at El Paso earning his B.S. degree in Biology and his M.S. in Health and Physical Education. Doug is married and has a two year old son.

BRIAN MC INTYRE

Director of Marketing/Media Information

This is Brian's initial season with the Bulls and he is responsible for marketing, media information, publicity, promotion, advertising and game management.

Prior to joining the club, he worked for Professional Communications Associates in Chicago for five years. In addition he also wrote and published a scorecard for Bulls and Black Hawks home games and was a free-lance sports writer.

A native Chicagoan, McIntyre graduated from Loyola University where he was Sports Editor of the student newspaper and Assistant Sports Information Director.

Brian is an active member of the Loyola University Monogram Club.

He and his wife, Betty, reside in Glenview.

DAVID C. BACHMAN, M.D.

Team Physician

Dr. Bachman is entering his second decade as physician for the Chicago Bulls. He is known throughout the nation for his expertise in the area of orthopaedics, is a Diplomate of the American Board of Orthopaedic Surgery, and is currently associated with Chicago's Northwestern Memorial, Children's Memorial and Grant Hospitals.

Dr. Bachman is also Director of the Northwestern University's Medical School Center for Sports Medicine, a member of eleven professional societies and the author of a popular weekly medical column, "Doctor Jock."

He is a graduate of Northwestern University's Medical School and has a private practice in orthopaedic surgery in Chicago.

IRWIN MANDEL

Controller and Financial Officer

Irwin enters his seventh season with the Bulls and his tenure with the organization is exceeded only by three other individuals. A native of Chicago, he is responsible for the club's financial, accounting, legal, administrative and corporate areas. Irwin has also been very active in the league-wide financial survey and has been very closely involved with the other NBA controllers.

A graduate of Northwestern University in accounting, Irwin remained at his alma mater for Law School. He is a certified public accountant as well as a member of the Illinois Bar.

He worked for Arthur Andersen and Company's tax department for four years before joining the Bulls. Irwin is very active in various Northwestern alumni organizations, having served during the past six years as Treasurer of the NU Club of Chicago, Northwestern Alumni Association and the Northwestern Young Alumni Council.

He resides in Highland Park with his wife, Sheri, and sons, Michael and Robert.

BOB DAVIS

Ticket Manager

This is Bob's fifth season with the Bulls and he's responsible for all season and group ticket sales. A native of Northfield, Ill., he received an academic scholarship to Ohio University, graduated after earning Dean's List honors and went on to receive a Masters Degree in Ohio University's School of Sports Administration.

Prior to joining the Bulls Bob worked for Northwestern University's athletic department and for the ticket office of the Chicago Fire of the defunct World Football League.

Birthplace: Seattle, Washington

Birthdate: September 19, 1948

Residence: Cincinnati, Ohio

Wife: Joyce

Children: Jahmal, Nicole

How Ard Became a BULL:

Signed as Free Agent
December 8, 1977.

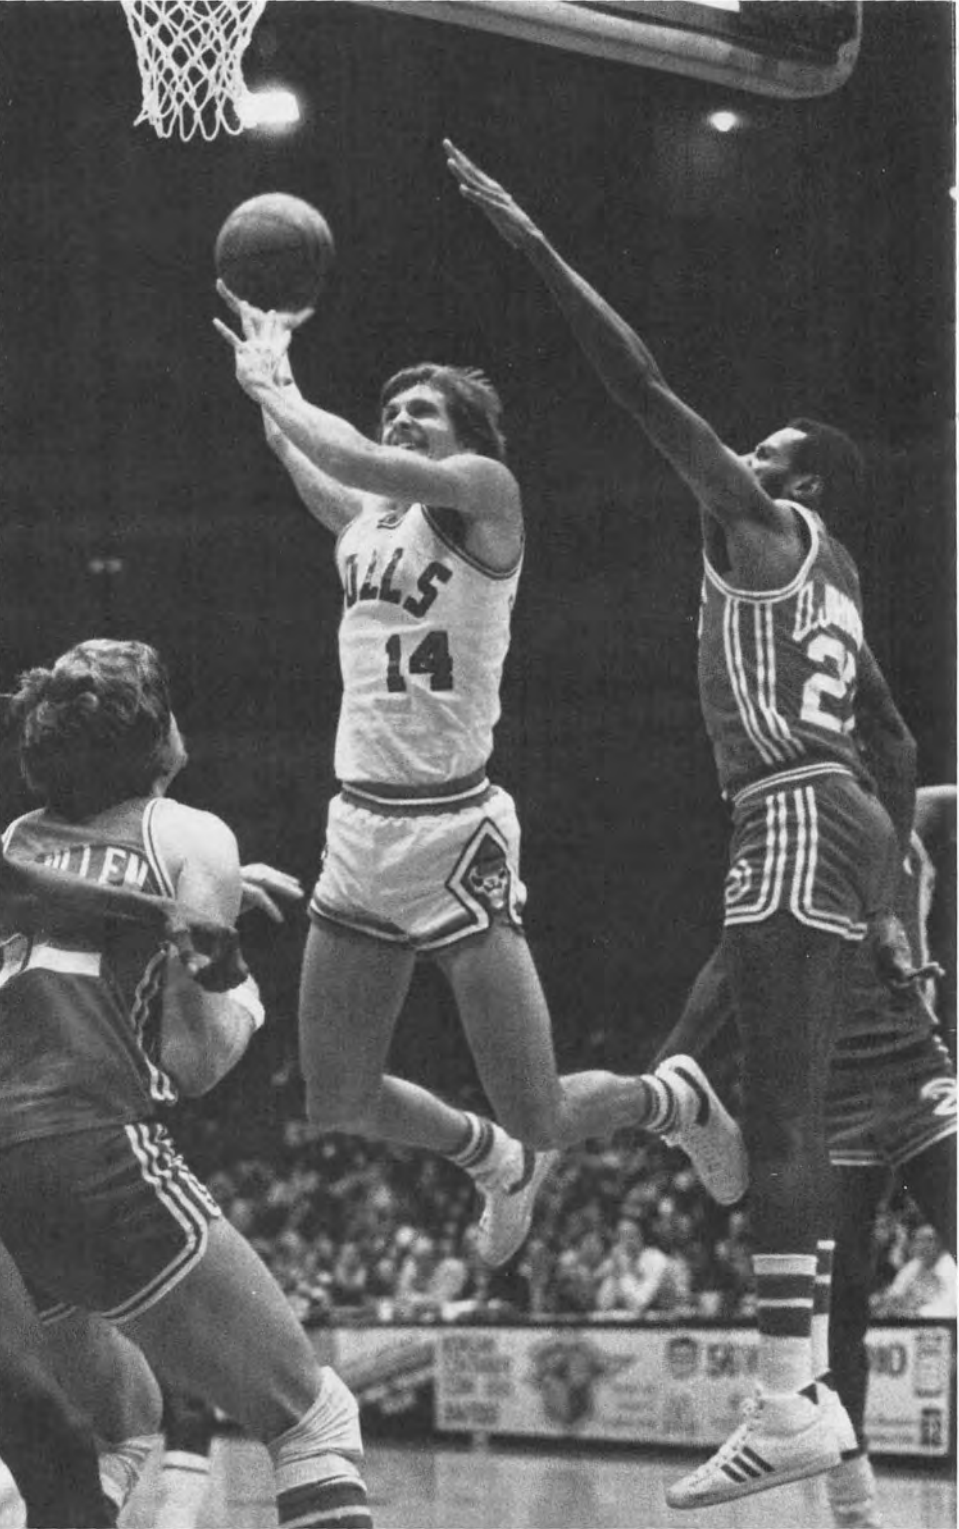

When Tom Boerwinkle crashed to the floor with his knee injury in a game against the Washington Bullets on December 6, 1977 the Bulls immediately began a search for a capable backup to Artis Gilmore ... Ard was picked up as a Free Agent two days later and played but 14 games before he, too, was shelved for the season with a leg injury ... The personable, hard-working pivot played three years with the Celtics, averaging 3.7 points and 3.8 rebounds ... Ard was Seattle's first round draft choice in 1970, but chose to play for the New York Nets in the ABA instead ... Utilized as a forward with the Nets, but returned to his natural position, center, when he signed with Boston ... An All-American selection at the University of Cincinnati.

How Armstrong Became a BULL:
Bulls number one draft pick in 1977.

Last year's number one draft pick, Tate led all Bulls' rookies in appearances with 66 ... His best individual effort was in a game against Detroit when he helped the Bulls end an eight road game losing streak by connecting on 11 of 15 field goals for 22 points in 24 minutes ... An excellent pure shooter who can hit from anywhere on the floor ... Worked with Nautilus in off season to improve strength ... Another member of Bulls' Gold Medal look along with May and Sheppard ... Fine ball handler ... Atlantic Coast Conference All-Tourney pick his senior season at Duke ... Collegiate career field goal percentage of .520 ... Holds Blue Devils single game assist record of 12 ... Once hit 11 straight field goals against Maryland.

How Boerwinkle Became a BULL:

Drafted number one in 1968

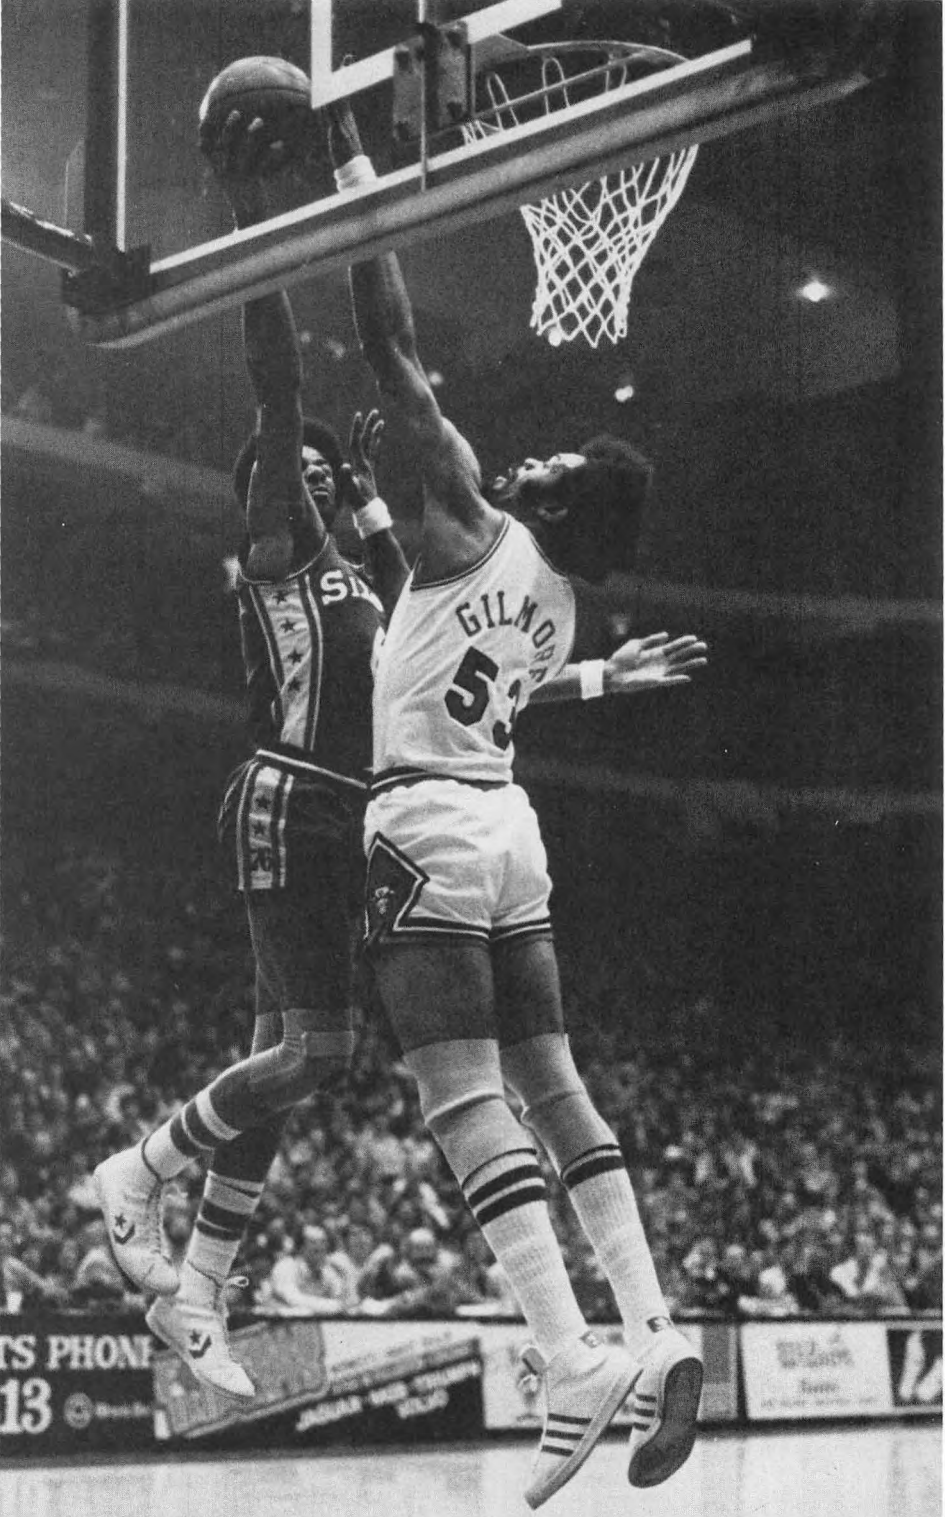

Tom Boerwinkle, the elder statesman of the Bulls, cranks up for his 11th consecutive season with the club ... A healthy Boerwinkle is a key to the Bulls' success, as was evidenced last year when he had to undergo his second knee operation, leaving the Bulls without a premier backup to Gilmore ... Played in only 22 games before the injury last winter ... One of the NBA's most underrated centers, Boerwinkle is considered the league's finest high post passer ... Ranks in top ten in 11 of 12 career statistical categories with the Bulls ... Will establish all-time club mark for most games played when he enters his 62nd contest this season ... Needs only one assist to tie Bob Weiss for second place on Bulls' all-time career assist list ... Owns Bulls' single game rebounding mark with 37 against Phoenix on January 8, 1970 ... At Tennessee he led the Southeastern Conference in rebounding his senior year ... Never played organized ball until his senior year in high school ... Very involved with charitable activities, especially Special Olympics, throughout this year.

ARTIS GILMORE

7'2" — 240 — Center

College: Jacksonville '71

High School: Chipley

Birthplace: Chipley, Fla.

Birthdate: September 21, 1949

Residence: Glenview, Ill.

Wife: Enola Gay

Children: Shawna Daniel,
Priya Doreen

How Gilmore Became a BULL:

Drafted number one in ABA Dispersal Draft in August, 1976

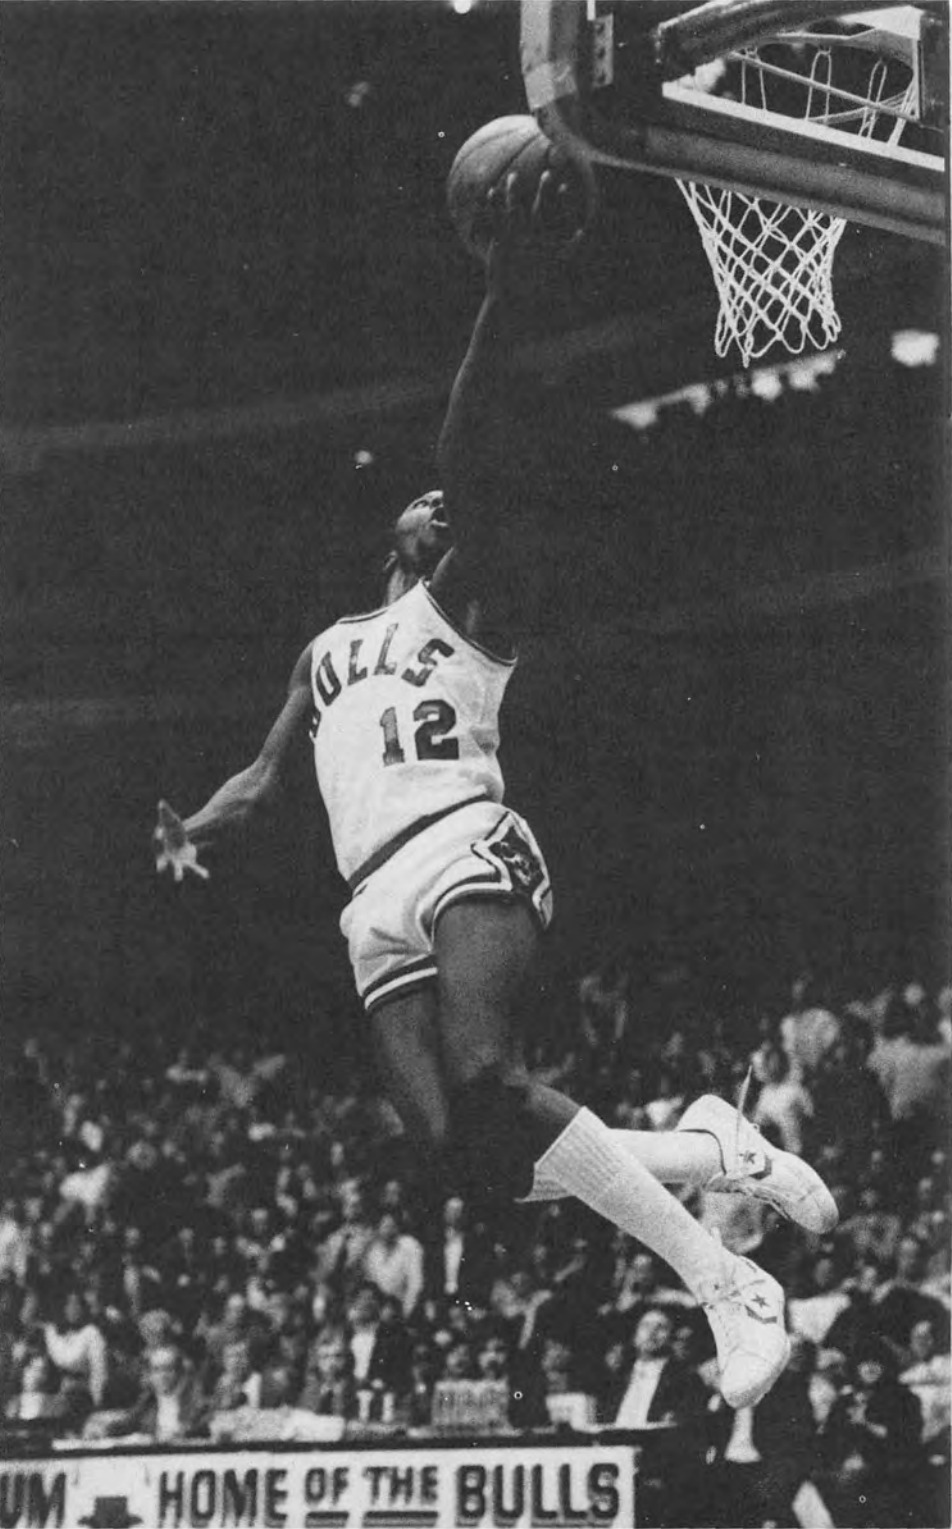

The Big Man for the Chicago Bulls in more ways than one, Gilmore is justifiably considered "The Franchise" by many NBA observers ... The tallest player in Bulls' history turned in another banner season in '77-'78, establishing personal NBA highs in every offensive statistical category ... '77-'78 stats reveal "The Big A" at 14th in NBA scoring (22.9), 3rd in field goal percentage (.559), 6th in rebounds (13.1) and 6th in blocked shots (203) ... Was named to NBA All-Defensive second team last season ... Outscored opposing starting centers by 8.8 points and outrebounded them 4.1 per game for all 82 games last year ... Scored in double figures in 80 of 82 games ... Scored 20 or more points in 60 contests ... Grabbed at least 10 rebounds in 62 games and had three 25 plus rebound games ... Had a personal high 11 blocked shots vs. Atlanta ... Holds club season records for highest field goal percentage (.559), offensive rebounds (318), defensive rebounds (757), free throws attempted (669), and blocked shots (203) ... Also owns Bulls' center records for most points in a season (1879), season scoring average (22.9) and minutes played (3067) ... Gilmore has yet to miss a start since joining the Bulls in '76 and his "Ironman" streak is now at 584 consecutive games ... He's never missed a game as a collegiate or a pro ... Last season marked the first time Gilmore didn't participate in postseason play ... Earned ABA "Rookie of the Year" honors for '72-'73 accomplishments ... Led Kentucky Colonels to playoffs all five years in the ABA, winning ABA Championship in '75 ... Led Jacksonville to NCAA Finals his junior season ... Member of Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, Mass. ... Enjoys scuba-diving and water-skiing in the off-season.

WILBUR HOLLAND

6'0" — 175 — Guard

College: New Orleans '76

High School: South Girard, Phoenix City, Ala.

Birthplace: Phoenix City, Alabama

Birthdate: November 8, 1951

Residence: Lombard, Ill.

Wife: Mary

Children: Keisha

How Holland Became a BULL:

Signed as a free agent on October 28, 1976.

Wilbur is one of only two Bulls who saw action in all 82 games last year ... Started 81 matches and scored in double figures in 72 of them ... His 16.6 scoring average was his best ever as a professional and third best on the squad last season ... His 169 steals last winter led the team for the second consecutive campaign and placed him tenth in the league in that category ... A streak shooter who can explode at any time ... Scored 30 points in his first NBA start ... His unusual left-handed jumper reminds some fans of former NBA star Dick Barnett ... Scored career high 36 points against Portland last season ... Had 20 or more points on 26 occasions ... Named to several small college All-American teams while at University of New Orleans ... Biggest personal thrill the past year was the birth of daughter Keisha.

MICKEY JOHNSON

6'9" — 190 — Forward

College: Aurora (Ill.) '74

High School: Lindbloom

Birthplace: Chicago, Illinois

Birthdate: August 31, 1952

Residence: Chicago, Illinois

Wife: Diane

Children: Wallace, Jr.

How Johnson Became a BULL:

Acquired from Portland in Sept., 1974 for third-round draft pick.

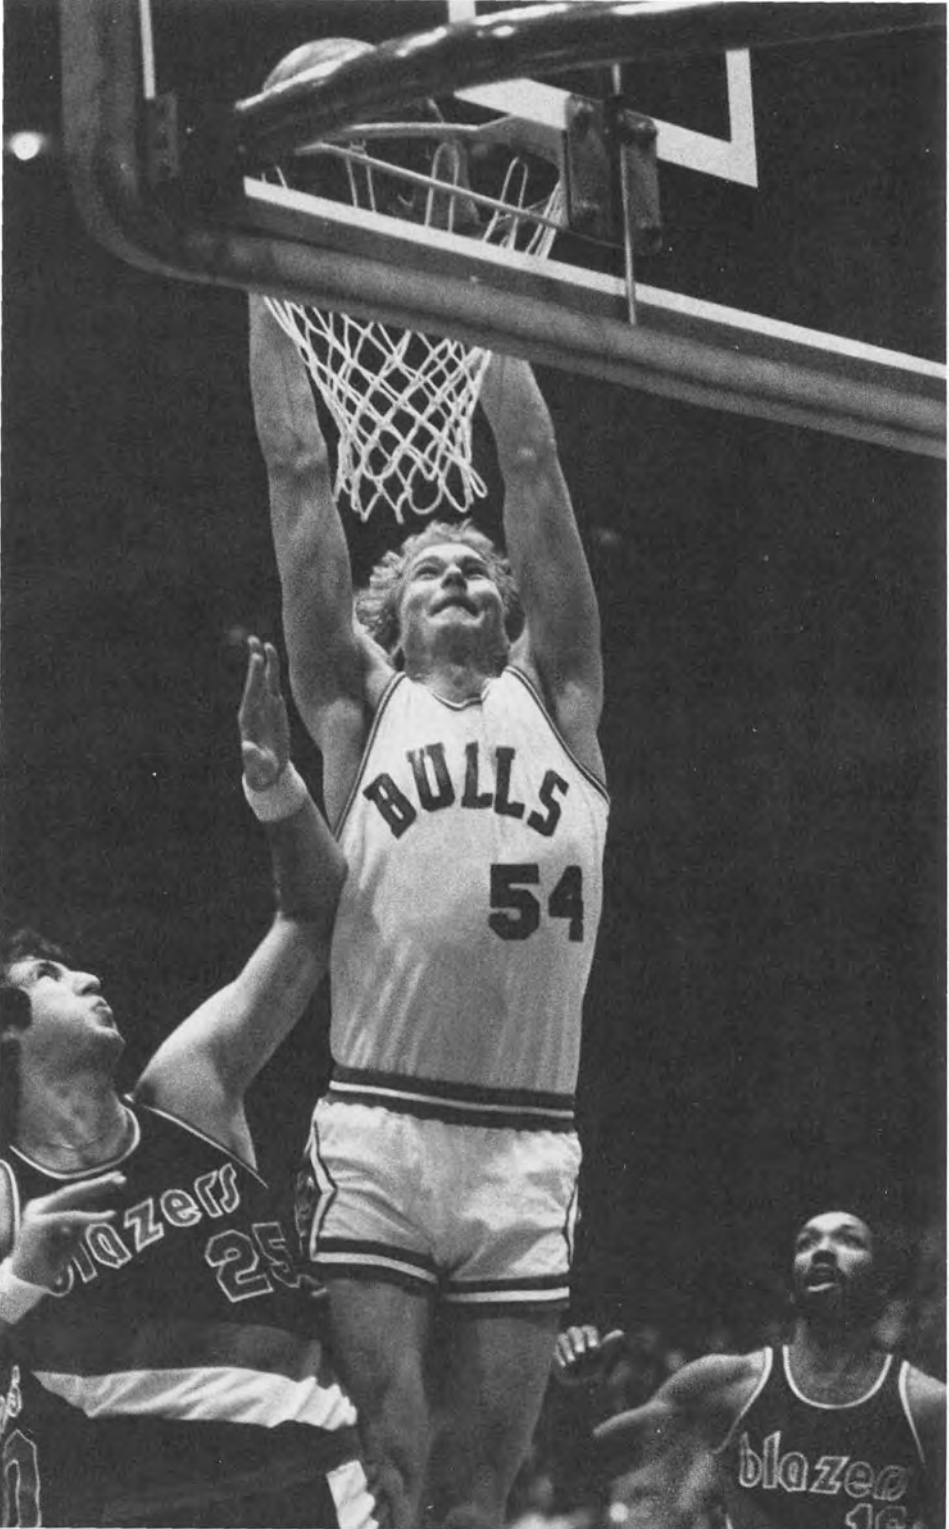

Entering his 5th NBA season with the Bulls, Mickey has the talent to be one of the league's premier forwards ... Last season ranked second on the squad behind Gilmore in both scoring (18.3) and rebounding (9.1) ... Has improved in almost every statistical category (scoring, free throws, field goals, rebounds and assists) in each of his four pro seasons ... Can and will put it up from anywhere on the floor ... Has the height, range, quickness, mobility and leaping ability to do it all at the forward spot ... Scored in double figures in 72 of 81 contests last season, including a '77-'78 team high 39 points against Golden State (11 for 15 from the floor and 17 for 20 from the line) ... Pulled down 10 or more rebounds 34 times last season, with season high 20 against Portland ... Holds Bulls' record for consecutive points in a game (14) ... His great leaping ability has enabled him to block shots on Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, Elvin Hayes and Dr. J. ... Chicago's local success story ... Never played basketball while at Chicago's Lindbloom High School, but set virtually every school record at tiny Aurora (Ill.) College, where he was named to NAIA All-American squad ... Success hasn't affected Mickey as he still devotes much of his time to working with kids ... Spends his off-season in the Chicago area.

How Landsberger Became a BULL:
Second round draft pick in 1977.

Dramatic improvement characterized Mark Landsberger's initial NBA season ... Bulls are counting heavily on Mark to develop into a top notch power forward ... Late season play last year indicates he may develop sooner than anticipated ... Started final 13 games of '77-'78 season averaging 14.3 points and 11.5 rebounds during this span ... Tied two team and Stadium records in one game last season when he grabbed 12 offensive rebounds in one game and 6 offensive rebounds in one quarter ... Best overall game was against the Pistons late in the season when he scored 25 points on 11 for 18 from the floor, picked off 19 rebounds and dished off 3 assists ... Had two 19 rebound games ... Very aggressive and strong ... Led Southern California Summer Pro League in rebounding this past summer with a 15.4 average and was third in scoring with a 26.4 average ... An All-American at Hancock Junior College in Santa Maria, California ... At the University of Minnesota he averaged 15.3 points and rebounds and teamed on the front line with San Antonio Spurs' star Mark Olberding and 1978 Number One Draft Pick Mychal Thompson ... Finished collegiate career as leading scorer (17.2) and rebounder (14.4) at Arizona State ... Gave up senior season to sign with Bulls ... Alternate on '76 Olympic team.

How May Became a BULL:

Drafted number one in 1976.

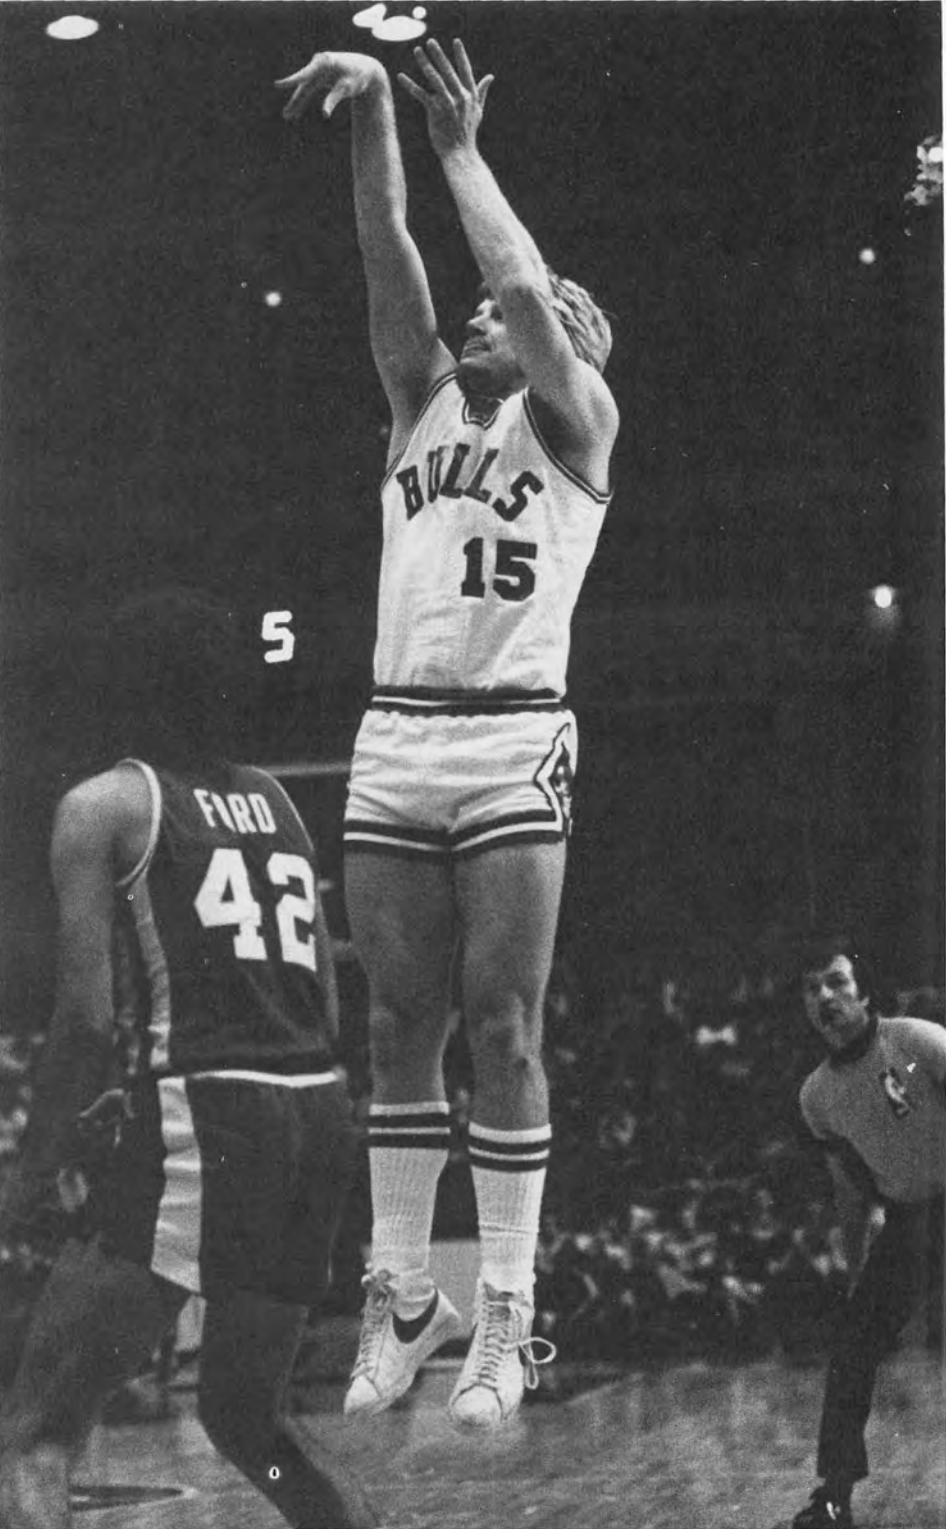

Scott is seeking his first injury-free season as a Chicago Bull ... '76-'77 rookie season saw him miss training camp and first 10 regular season games due to mononucleosis ... Last season May was hampered by knee problems for two-thirds of the season and wasn't in uniform for final 23 games of the schedule ... Had a successful operation on his left knee in April, and, like Boerwinkle, worked diligently in off-season to rehabilitate ... Despite injury, May was fourth leading scorer for Bulls during '77-'78 campaign with a 13.4 average ... Scored in double figures in 43 of 55 games he participated in ... He established personal game highs in both points (27) and assists (8) last season ... Bulls all-time rookie scoring leader with 1,050 points in his initial season ... A defensive standout, May is assigned to guard opposition's best night after night ... Two-time Big Ten Conference MVP selection ... Starting guard on the Gold Medal winning U.S. '76 Olympic Team in Montreal, a squad which also featured teammates Tate Armstrong and Steve Sheppard ... Consensus "College Player of the Year" for '76 while at Indiana.

How Mengelt Became a BULL:

Purchased from Detroit on November 18, 1976.

Beginning his third season with Chicago, Mengelt is another hardnosed scrapper whose style of play has endeared him to local sports enthusiasts ... By far the Bulls' best man off the bench last season ... Participated in a career high 81 games last season ... Scored in double figures 45 times, 43 of which were in a reserve role ... Finished the season as the team's fifth highest scorer with a 10.3 average ... Passed out a career high 232 assists ... Excellent jump shooter ... Has muscle to drive inside and shooting touch to hit from the perimeter ... One of a handful of players who can really make things happen coming off the bench ... In one game against the NBA Champion Washington Bullets scored a season high 27 points on 12 of 19 FGA's in only 24 minutes ... Played both football and basketball at Auburn where he broke all school basketball scoring records and led the Southeastern Conference in scoring as a senior ... Led the nation in free throw percentage his senior year with a .910 mark.

How Sheppard Became a BULL:

Drafted in second round in 1977.

Even though "Shep" was seldom in a starting role, his constant hustle and determination made him a favorite with Stadium crowds last season ... Steve made the most of his first starting assignment when he scored a season high 22 points and grabbed a season high 9 rebounds in a game against the San Antonio Spurs ... An outstanding inside player, Steve is a good rebounder and is tough to move around under the hoop ... Makes up for any of his size problems at the power forward spot with his desire and attitude ... Scored in double figures in seven games ... Starred for Coach Lefty Dreisell at Maryland where he averaged 16 points for three years and made the All-Atlantic Coast Conference Team ... A Gold Medal winner and teammate of Scott May and Tate Armstrong on the '76 U.S. Olympic team ... NORM VAN LIER

6'1" — 180 — Guard

College: St. Francis of Pennsylvania '69

High School: Midland

Birthplace: Midland, Pennsylvania

Birthdate: April 1, 1947

Residence: Chicago, Ill.

How Van Lier Became a BULL:

Acquired from Cincinnati for
Jim Fox in 1971

If the NBA kept a record of "Most Floor Burns, Career", Norm Van Lier would be right among the league leaders ... Norman is still stormin' after nine years as one of the league's most intense competitors ... Favored by Chicago sports fans for his aggressive and fiery style of play, Van Lier did not enjoy one of his better seasons last year ... His 7.3 scoring average and 477 FGA marked career lows ... But the Bulls' All-Time Assist and Steals leader was the NBA's fifth best playmaker, averaging 6.8 assists per game ... His 531 assists last season give him 5059 for his career, and only seven players in the history of the league have more ... Ranks in top ten in 11 of 12 Bulls' career statistical categories ... Has been named to NBA All-Defensive First or Second Team for eight consecutive seasons ... Above average rebounder for his size ... Led team in technicals last season with seven ... Has led Bulls in assists every year since he joined the club during the '71-'72 season ... Aggressive on court, easy going off court ... Enjoys camping in the wilderness in the off season ... Studied Karate this past summer.

Bob Rosenberg

Official Scorer
and Head Statistician

Bob Rosenberg begins his 13th season with the Bulls. He has been the official scorer for every Bulls' game since the team first entered the league. Most of the historical and statistical information in this book is a result of his efforts. In 12 years he has never missed a regular or playoff game at home. The Bulls extend their thanks and appreciation to Bob for his dedication and outstanding performance.
